After attending your class, the change in the dynamic of my classroom is amazing! Each day there has been more and more time for us all to enjoy first grade. In this hands-on, interactive workshop you will learn key components of classroom management, customize them for your situation, and create an individualized implementation plan. Key concepts covered are:

- How to prompt and cue students so they will gladly do what you ask.
- Learn ways to reinforce positive behavior that won't embarrass your students or "wear off" over time.
- Discover specific strategies to fully engage your students and reduce "boredom" misbehaviors.
- Learn how to correct students without making them defensive or angry.
- Discover key academic and behavioral skills to teach your students so they will cooperate with you all year long.

This will be a great workshop for you if you want to use your brain and create something you will actually use in your classroom. If you want to listen to educational theories while you grade papers, this is not the workshop for you.
