How to Use This Book

If you are a classroom teacher searching for inspiration, this book is for you.

You may decide to use these pages for private reflection and relaxation (or to help you focus during a meeting.) If so, I invite you to color directly into the book so you can look back on your completed creations whenever you need encouragement.

Or you may wish to photocopy a page or two for you or your students to color and display in your classroom for daily reminders and encouragement.

Unleash your creativity and find your own way to enjoy the positive messages and images in this book. If you find inspiration, joy, and fun in the process, you are doing it right.

Enjoy!
